GERMANY TO BE DECLARED IN DEFAULT, PARIS HINTS

If Guarantees Fail, France "To Act Under Treaty"

ENVOYS ARRIVE

Adoption Of A Moratorium Called Inconceivable

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 29.French occupation authorities at Hoechst am Main are accused of having imposed new burdens on the city in that they are demanding the construction of expensive barracks.

According to the Hoechst complainants, soldiers have demanded a Moorish coffee house be furnished for their entertainment.

The cost of the total improvements demanded is asserted to be in excess of 145,000,000 marks.

Paris, August 30.—A semi-official statement coinciding with the arrival of the German delegates says, that in the event of Germany refusing the pledges demanded by France the only solution in conformity with the peace treaty would be a refusal of a moratorium and a declaration of Germany's default.

It further declares that the event of the inconceivable adoption of a moratorium without pledges would give liberty of action to France, who would be unable to abandon the position taken up at London.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 29.—The Reparations Commission is continuing informal conversations with a view to reaching an agreement on the deadlock before the arrival of the German representatives, who are now on their way to Paris, but little reliable information has leaked out.

There is, however, a noteworthy change in today's press comment, it being generally agreed that no matter how radically opinions vary, a split must be avoided.

Attention is now fastening on a plan credited to Sir John Bradbury, the particulars of which have not been disclosed but which the Matin considers most satisfactorily worked out and likely to provide sound guarantees and pledges for France.

GEN. WU'S PARTY IN OPEN AGAINST TANG AS PREMIER

Position Disclosed By Telegrams From Generals

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 30.—Chinese official circles consider that the Chihli Party's policy has been disclosed by telegrams received from Generals Chang Hsih-yuan and Hsiao Yao-nan, Military Commissioner of Charhar and Tuchun of Hupei respectively.

The former opposed the election of Mr. Tang Shao-yi as Premier and advocates the appointment of Dr Wang Chung-huai. General Hsiao says much the same adding that as Mr Tang Shao-yi advocates a Federal system his election would not be in the interests of the country at present.

In the meanwhile, the Cabinet announces that Dr Wang Chung-huai continues to decline nomination.

After seeing General Tsao Kun Mr Chang Ying-hua telegraphed saying that General Tsao Kun favors the appointment of Dr. Wang Chung-huai or failing that one of China's diplomats. Official circles read this as Dr W. W. Yen or Dr Wellington Koo.

As regards the financial situation General Tsao Kun recommends Mr. Chang Ying-hua to go on and consult General Wu Pei-fu. This Mr. Chang is doing.

DOG DAYS STUFF

By Westa

THE FOLLOWING letter, signed "An Optimistic American," was published yesterday in the correspondence column of one of our morning contemporaries:

One of the best suggestions offered in many a day was propounded at length in the special column of a local paper on the 26th instant. The gist of the article, expressed in one sentence, was that the Shanghai Baseball Club should have its own ball field at some place outside the recreation grounds in order that it might be properly fenced off, compelling all who wish to see any games to pay for a seat in the grand stand, thus bringing more money to the treasury and so enabling the management to bring good teams from remote centers and, if need be, to pay some of Shanghai's players in order that a strong aggregation capable of acquitting themselves well might be on deck to do Shanghai proud.

This is exactly what might be expected from the trend of events this season and may it come to pass at an early date, in order that the field left vacant on the recreation grounds may be used by scores of men who like baseball for the sake of the sport and the exercise and who care nought whether there are any fans or newspaper reporters present or not.

One cannot help admiring the quiet gentlemanly way in which cricket and other British sports are conducted and noting how the British never lose sight of the main object of all sports which is to afford exercise and recreation to the greatest number of participants

I strongly endorse the exodus suggested and wish the management speedy fortune in finding a suitable field beyond the confines of the Model Settlement where professional baseball can be conducted and where the fans can enjoy themselves to their hearts and lungs content—and may the fence which they build assume the heights of a Babel's Tower.

I am, etc.,

AN OPTIMISTIC AMERICAN.
Shanghai, Aug. 28, 1922.

EVERY American who read that letter was thankful for the fact that the writer confessed himself an American, if for no other reason than the fact that he was ashamed to sign his name to a letter in which he speaks disparagingly of one of the greatest of American institutions, thus showing very clearly what sort of an American he is.

It would have distressed all right thinking Americans if that letter had been signed "Britisher," or "Frenchman," since gentlemen of those nationalities are as a rule too well bred and good mannered to run down another people's national game, and too patriotic to stick a knife into the back of their own, after the manner of "An Optimistic American."

It would be useless to remind this carefully anonymous correspondent that "the scores of men who like baseball for the sake of the sport, and who care naught whether there are any fans or newspaper reporters present" are perfectly welcome to indulge their love of the sport at the present park any time they care to do so, provided only they will step aside for a total of six or eight hours each week in order that the members and players of the Shanghai Baseball Club may enjoy their equal privilege of playing there, and watching others play.

It would be useless to remind him of these things because it was not a feeling of distress for these "scores of men" that prompted his letter. Nobody knows better than he that "scores of men" with a thwarted longing to play baseball unhampered by fans or newspaper reporters do not exist in Shanghai.

The surprising thing about this letter was that a newspaper controlled by Englishmen possessing the characteristic British love of fair play would print it. In this office there are several large and deep mouthed waste paper baskets, and each one stands yawning, day, night and Sunday, for communications sent in by soreheads—particularly, it might be added, for soreheaded Britishers bent on besmirching, anonymously, their own compatriots or institutions.

NEW ADMIRAL IN CHARGE OF ASIATIC FLEET

Admiral Anderson Hoists Flag On Huron At Chefoo

Hoisting his flag over the U. S. S. Huron, Rear-Admiral Edwin Alexander Anderson at Chefoo on Monday took command of the American Asiatic Fleet, relieving Admiral Joseph Strauss, who is leaving for home shortly after a period of excellent service for the American Navy in the Far East.

With the assumption of charge of the Asiatic Fleet Admiral Anderson takes the rank of full Admiral. The Huron, which will be his flagship, is due to arrive in Shanghai within a few days and it is believed that Admiral Anderson will make it the occasion of his first official visit here. Admiral Strauss is also expected to arrive here on the Huron.

Admiral Anderson arrived at Chefoo on the Black Hawk on August 27, coming from Europe via Suez. While in European waters he was temporarily in command of the European detachment of the American fleet. Eleven new destroyers accompanied the Black Hawk on the cruise from Europe and are also at Chefoo.

HAS DISTINGUISHED CAREER

The new Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic fleet graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1882 and rose successively to the rank of Rear-Admiral on August 31, 1917. In the Spanish-American War he served first on the U. S. S. Marblehead and later as commander of the Sandoval, being advanced five numbers in file for "extraordinary heroism". After the war he was attached to the Naval Gun Factory at Washington, and then took command of the battleship Pennsylvania, one of Uncle Sam's finest sea-fighters.

From the Pennsylvania he returned to land duty, serving successively at the Cincinnati, the Mare Island Naval yard, the Naval Yard at Philadelphia, and then entered the Naval War College. In 1916 he became Superintendent of Naval Auxiliaries and the next year took command of the Third Squadron of the patrol force. During the United States' participation in the world war he was in command of Squadron 1 of the patrol force.

Canton Members Barred By House, Session Breaks Up

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 30.—In the House of Representatives today members were beginning to assemble when 48 Canton members, who were recently appointed advisers at a salary of $400 a month, reached the doors. The police would not allow them to enter. They demanded admission upon which the doors were closed.

As there were less than 50 members in the House the regular meeting was postponed. The business set down for today was the election of a Vice-Chairman.

No Charge For Repairs, Only For Material, Says Cohen In Ricsha Action

But States That Reduction In Damage Assessments Became Effective This Month

Taking the witness box at the Mixed Court yesterday Mr. A. Cohen, proprietor of the Star Ricsha Company, gave testimony and figures calculated to show that the lot of the ricsha coolie and the extreme sub-strata of sub-contractors connected with his company is not such a pitiable and hopeless lot as report would seem to have it. The testimony and figures were questioned by Mr. James Browne appearing as counsel for four sub-foremen who are being charged by Mr. Cohen with inciting coolies to strike.

The case is being heard by Spanish Assessor Vizenzinovich and Magistrate Tsang, Spanish interests being claimed. Five defendants appeared, but against one of these, who was accused of intimidation of ricsha coolies, the plaintiff did not press the prosecution and he was required to give personal bond for good behavior for a six months' period.

At the outset of the hearing Mr. Browne moved for the dismissal of the charges against the four sub-foremen on the ground that no strike could be alleged, since in order to have a strike there must be the relation of master and servant. There was no such relation as regards public ricsha pullers but only the relation of hiring, or batiment, he contended.

RULING NOT MADE

Mr. H. D. Rodger, appearing for the plaintiff, submitted that there should be no ruling on the point until argument had been heard, to which the court acceded.

Outlining the case, Mr. Rodger stated that the Star Ricsha Company had 30 branches, or stations, to which its 3,000 ricshas were allotted. Twenty-four of these were in the Settlement and six were in Chapei. It was the latter which had the trouble. The disaffected sub-foremen had complained that they were assessed too heavily by the company in the matter of damages to ricshas, but counsel would point out that these damages were assessed at a figure as much as fifty percent below actual cost to the company. The scale had not been altered for 15 years. On July 21 Mr. Cohen had found out that meetings were taking place and he had protested to the foremen. Later he sent out men and found out that the defendants were the ringleaders among the sub-foremen

Mr. Cohen was then called and after describing at length his fears of a strike and the reports reaching him prior to the strike on August 7, was questioned by the Magistrate regarding the hire price he got from the foremen. He stated that this was 75 cents, small money, per day.

MAGISTRATE QUERIES

"If there is no business for the ricshas do they have to pay this price also?" asked the Magistrate.

Mr. Cohen replied that the company knew nothing of this, but that the foremen stated the number of ricshas they had business for and paid for that number. If later they discovered there was not that much business, they could nominate a lesser number next day. The ricshas were hired by the day. The ricshas were paid for and after that the business was the foremen's.

Under cross-examination the plaintiff stated that the hire price when he first started in the business was 85 cents, being now ten cents under that figure. Questioned regarding the charges for damage and repairs the witness stated emphatically that no charge for repairs was made but that the only charge was for the required new materials; there was no charge for the labor expended. He denied that charges had increased 100 percent, but stated that the cost of some materials had increased.

EXHIBITS RUINS

The witness then introduced some specimens of damaged appurtenances, the collection causing counsel for the defendants to remark admiringly upon plain-

BOYD CASE ENDS; COURT'S RULING NOW IS AWAITED

Final Arguments Are Made By District Attorney Husar And Mr. R. S. Haskell

Final arguments were presented before Judge Lobingier yesterday in the United States Court for China in the case of Ralph S. Boyd, head of the various Boyd commercial enterprises, who has been on trial on a charge of obtaining Tls. 30,000 by false pretenses from General Chang when General Chang was director of the Hunan Provincial Mint.

In concluding the cross-examination of Boyd yesterday afternoon United States District Attorney Leonard G. Husar again went into the question of the ownership of the copper. Boyd denied that the question of the ownership of the copper was ever brought up in conversations with General Chang. The receipts for the Tls. 30,000 was issued when General Chang gave the company his check, he said.

He said the money was paid into the account of R. S. Boyd and Company and was deposited with the Park Union Bank. While Tzou had no authority to withdraw the Company's money both Tzou and himself were authorised to conduct deals.

The District Attorney then questioned Boyd with regard to various letters and telegrams sent out by his firm. Boyd said the reason why the first shipment of 5,000 piculs of copper was not made was because of difficulty in connection with the permit. Boyd admitted having written a letter to the Hunan Mint saying that the Company would not be responsible for any damage. What he meant by he said was that he would be responsible only for the contract as a whole. When he wrote that letter he did not mean to put the interpetation, he said, that the District Attorney placed on it. The whole intention was to limit the liability.

Arguments in the case by District Attorney Husar and Mr. R. S. Haskell who is defending Boyd began at 3:30 o'clock.

In asking for a conviction Mr. Husar reviewed the evidence of the prosecution and asserted that it showed clearly that Boyd had received the money under false pretenses in that he promised to sell the mint 20,000 piculs of copper, accepted the Tls. 30,000 and not only did not make delivery but telegraphed General Chang that the copper was on its way to Changsha.

Mr. Haskell asserted that the defense testimony was proof that Boyd had never claimed to own the copper, that the deal had been made by Tzou and not Boyd, and that it was a legitimate deal that failed merely because of military troubles in the North.

GENERAL FOWLER GIVES REPORT ON VOLUNTEER CORPS

British Commander Considers Force To Be In State Of Efficiency

In the current number of the Municipal Gazette Major-General Sir J. S. Fowler, K.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O., Commanding British forces in China, presents a report of his recent inspection of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps. In this it is set forth that at the time of the inspection the Corps had an enrolled membership of 1,362.

Activities of all the units of the Corps are reviewed at length in the report and in conclusion General Fowler says, "From what I have seen at my inspection, I consider that the Corps is in an efficient state and that the fact that Shanghai has an efficient Volunteer Corps goes far to ensure that disturbances in Shanghai will not arise, or that should they do so, they will be quickly suppressed."

14,773 People Go To Parks Daily, Report Discloses

In connection with a report on public parks for the month of July it is set forth that a census taken of all foreigners who entered the various parks and gardens during the month gives an average total of 14,773 per day, equal to 457,963 visitors per month.

In comparison with the total foreign population of the Settlement, this census indicates that the great majority of residents frequent the parks almost daily.

A noteworthy feature of this census is that the frequenters of the Public Garden are more than double that of any previous year; during the week ending July 23, 46,091 persons visited this garden. The reason for this marked increase is not apparent, for the Settlement's population has not increased materially this year.

It is not materially affected by the Band, as the largest numbers frequent it on Saturdays, over 6,000, and on Sundays, about 7,000, when there is no Band. It provides, however, this year, larger lawn space, and increased seating accommodation.

Tang's Nomination Again Shelved By Peking Parliament

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, August 30.—On account of the squabble over the election of the Vice-speaker of the Senate Parliament failed to list the bill for the confirmation of Mr. Tang Shao-yi as Premier today. The dominating factions, Chenghsuehui and Yiyusha, expressed the fear that no result would be obtained if both vexing problems are brought up for discussion on the same day, so the solons decided to leave out the Cabinet question.

It is expected that Chang Pei-li will be elected vice-speaker of the Senate.

The Ministry of Communications has agreed to remit the sum of $1,300,000 a month to Paotingfu and $1,000,000 a month to Loyang.

MRS. SWINEHART GIVEN ALIMONY OF $150 A MONTH

Hearing In American Court Preliminary To Suit For Separate Maintenance

Alimony in the sum of $150 in addition to G.$250 was granted by Judge Lobingier yesterday in the United States Court for China to Mrs. Harriet Howard Swinehart at the conclusion of a hearing marked by a number of acrimonious exchanges of counsel.

The application for alimony was made by Mrs. Swinehart's attorney, Mr. F. J. Schuhl pending hearing of a suit for separate maintenance, and was opposed by Mr. P. F. Faison, representing Mr. Swinehart.

Mrs. Swinehart testified she married Mr. Swinehart on November 7, 1918 at Kalamazoo, Michigan. She was forced to leave him, she said, on March 16, 1922. At that time she declared her husband forced her out of their apartment in the Ben Building, took off her wedding and diamond engagement rings, choked her and otherwise abused her, and then put her out in the hall scantily clad.

Mrs. Swinehart said that she now lived at 47 Bubbling Well Road and had no money and that unless she paid a two months bill there by September 1 she would be put out. She had been forced to borrow from friends, she said, because her money had been attached by Mr. Swinehart.

Cross-examined by Mr. Faison Mrs. Swinehart said she admitted her husband turned G. $4,000 over to her. The money, she said, was part of $12,000 they had in South America. In December, 1921, she sent for $300, Mrs. Swinehart said, and last March she drew $800 more, and also G. $4300 from the Asia Banking Corporation. At the present time there is G. $3,000 in the bank which has been attached by Mr. Swinehart pending his suit against Mrs. Swinehart, Mr. P. R. Moore, and their company, the Moson Hart Company.

SOLD SILK TO LIVE

Altogether Mrs. Swinehart said she had drawn $6,400 of the money, part of which she had used to buy silk. The silk had since been sold to provide her with living expenses.

Replying to questions from Mr. Faison, Mrs. Swinehart said she had left Mr. Swinehart because he had treated her cruelly in the Ben building.

"The day before March 16 I told Mr. Swinehart that my money had come," Mrs. Swinehart said, "and that I was using it. He immediately demanded the money. I told him it was my money and that I was going to keep it. Then he grabbed my rings from my fingers and told me to pack up and get out. He has a very bad, violent temper. He came the next day and remarked: 'I see you're still here.'

"Then he knocked me down and pushed me out. He threw me on a bed and tried to choke me. I was forced to leave."

Mr. Faison: "Is that all?"

"I think it is," Mrs. Swinehart answered. "His favorite form of abuse was to wait until we got into bed and then quarrel over expenses. He always used violence. He threw something at me once. He said the only thing that prevented him from killing me was the Law. I was kicked out of bed six or seven times and choked twice. He has struck me a good many times since we were married. The three chief times was when he hit me in the eye with a piece of fudge, the time when he beat me up in the Ben building, and the time he attacked me and said he would kill me but for the Law."

Mrs. Swinehart said she had no other proof than what she had given in testimony.

Mr. Swinehart was the second witness called on the stand, and denied Mrs. Swinehart's tale of cruelty.

"Once," Mr. Swinehart said, "a question came up over the furniture she had borrowed from Moore. She told me she had bought it, and wanted money to pay Moore. Then she told me she was tired of living with a man that was content to go on drawing a salary and when I asked her for the gold she said she had invested it in a business that would pay a return of thirty percent.

DENIES BEATING HER

"I never choked her, and I never locked her out of the Ben building," Mr. Swinehart said. "I have never subjected her to any physical violence. I am employed in Shanghai by Mr. Black, an architect, and have a good many debts from January on that my wife never paid. Mr. Moore arranged credit for Mrs. Swinehart at a good many places. I gave my wife all my money. My indebtedness in Shanghai amounts to over $350. I turned $500 a month over to her and she got another $275 from the Tegetmeiers."

Cross-examined by Mr. Schuhl, Mr. Swinehart said he was at present living at 18 Quinsan Gardens. He denied taking the engagement or wedding rings off his wife's fingers and admitted that from the money Mrs. Swinehart received she paid the rent and fed five people.

Mr. Schuhl said Mr. Swinheart had attached G. $3,000 and said that if he would release G. $1,000 it would be of great assistance to Mrs. Swinehart.

"As long as Mrs. Swinehart runs around with Mr. Moore Mr. Swinehart would not be very pleased to treat his wife with undue generosity," Mr. Faison retorted.

Mr. Schuhl said it was not likely Mrs. Swinehart would return to Mr. Swinehart after the charges he had made against her, and Mr. Faison said Mr. Swinehart was not anxious to have her back. Judge Lobingier agreed that was practically impossible for them to get along together.

Mr. Faison said he had suggested that Mr. Swinehart deposit G. $500 with the American Consulate-General to insure Mrs. Swinehart's return to the United States as a settlement of the difficulties, but Mr. Schuhl retorted that Mrs Swinehart was going to stay in Shanghai until the suit for the large amount came up and was not going to America.

SWINEHART AGGRIEVED

"Mr. Swinehart feels that he has been outraged by Moore and that Mrs. Swinehart has dishonored his name," Mr. Faison said. "He also feels that the Court has discredited him by discrediting his testimony. He feels that the whole world is against him and I ask that the Court take his side as well as Mrs. Swinehart's side. Mr. Swinehart is a fine man."

Mr. Schuhl then submitted that if Swinehart had money to engage detectives to watch his wife he had money to support her. She was entitled to support, he said, and it was up to Swinehart to get sufficient funds.

Swinehart, Mr. Schuhl said, had tied up all Mrs. Swinehart's money and her business and she could do nothing but wait.

Mr. W. V. Alford was called as a witness by Mr. Faison and said that he had known Swinehart for several years. He had worked with him and never heard him say even "damn it" and he'd never even beaten his mules on construction work. When his wife left him, Mr. Alford said, Mr. Swinehart was very calm. During the five weeks we lived with them he was exceedingly kind to her.

Mrs. Swinehart, recalled to the stand for rebuttal testimony said that the bills Swinehart had testified to were contracted while she was still living with him and that they were household expenses.

THREATEN SCHUHL

Mr. Faison, addressing the Court, asked the Court to caution Mr. Schuhl against referring to the case of the U. S. v. Moore. Mr. Schuhl was continually harping on that case, he said, and suggesting a frame-up and that unless Mr. Schuhl desisted it might result in a libel suit against him.

Judge Lobingier said it was hardly within the Court's rights to caution Mr. Schuhl against libel.

"I say it is a frame-up," Mr. Schuhl declared, getting to his feet, "and I am not frightened by any libel action."

Judge Lobingier then made an order on the bank for the release of G.$250 out of the G.$3,000 that is attached, and ordered Mr. Swinehart to pay Mrs. Swinehart $150 a month pending the separate maintenance suit. Judge Lobingier said that they were still man and wife and that there was a legal obligation on Swinehart to support her.

HOW TO "GROW" ANEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "hustling." In a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant; we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, but old age. There is talk of rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands, but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

SCIENTIFIC BEAUTY.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives, this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now universally obtainable, gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The skin is thus perpetually renewed, and a clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

tiff's powers of selection. A couple of hoods which could easily have been mistaken for some of Sherman's equipment during the trek to the sea were described as the result of three or four months' treatment at the hands of the genus coolie. A brace of wheels which might well have been trundling around Verdun at the time of the heaviest shelling were entered as exhibits having withstood a similar period of wear and tear.

With regard to the latter Mr. Browne inquired why any charge at all should be made upon the coolie when the damage was so complete and so obviously not his fault. Mr. Cohen replied that in such cases the coolie often secured compensation from the parties who caused the accidents.

REDUCTION THIS MONTH

A spoke was exhibited. These cost 8 cents apiece. Formerly a charge of 20 cents was made for replacement, but this was now reduced to 10 cents. Mr. Browne inquired when the reduction had been made. The witness replied that it began this month.

"While the ricsha is being repaired does the hiring charge go on?"

"Absolutely."

After mentioning several other ricsha parts and their prices, the plaintiff handed in a list of the reduced prices which were to go into effect this month. Seat cushion covers which were formerly assessed at $1.25 were now to be $1 and back covers, formerly $2, were to be $1.50.

"Do you mean to intimate that you are losing money?" asked Mr. Brown.

Witness replied that if he did not lose money he did not make any money on repairs.

HELD UP LICENSES

Mr. Cohen stated that he applied for warrants after he found the four defendants were back of the meetings being held against the company, which was "illegal." He said that he did not issue the ricsha licenses on August 5 because he feared there was going to be a strike. He didn't know there should be a strike as the foremen had told him that the others were satisfied.

"Then you only guessed that there was going to be a strike?" queried counsel.

Witness said he did not like to issue the licenses while the men were holding meetings regarding a strike. He stated in reply to a question that the damaage accounts for July had all been settled by the foremen. His information regarding the meetings came through the foremen and his investigator.

"Then, so far as you knew yourself, the strike might be owing to the fact that the licenses were not issued? And you had these men arrested because someone told you they were going to strike?"

"My information came from my factory."

The case was adjourned.

Just Between Ourselves

(No. 17 of a series)

"Life insurance doesn't appeal to me—I can invest my money to better advantage."

"IF you can use your money to better advantage that represents ability which should be underwritten; your family probably could not invest in anything better, considering safety and certainty, than in insurance. It will protect the valuable asset that they have in your ability.

"FURTHERMORE, the investment feature of life insurance, while good, does not tell the whole story. Life insurance gives peace of mind because it has enabled you to create an estate immediately that would have taken you years to accumulate—it makes possible the realisation of your life's objectives if you should happen to be taken away prematurely. Considering the question from all sides, can you invest your money to better advantage?"

MOORE SUES FOR $20,000 DAMAGES ON LIBEL CLAIM

Files Action Against Jay Elmont In United States Court

Suit for $20,000 damages was filed against Jay Elmont and Mrs. Jay Elmont in the United States Court for China yesterday by P. R. Moore, who was recently acquitted of a charge of adultery brought against him by Dudley E. Swinehart.

The claim is based upon libel alleged to have been effected through a boarding house advertisement inserted in the Shanghai Gazette by Elmont on August 16, 17, 18 and 19, wherein was contained comment on the Swinehart Moore case.

Mr. Moore alleges in the information, which was filed on his behalf by Mr. F. J. Schuhl, that by the writing and publishing of the advertisement the defendants meant and intended it to be understood by all who read it that the plaintiff was immoral, a bigamist and of bad character. The information declares that the article and words are false and defamatory and that the publication has injured the plaintiff to the amount of $20,000.

Austria's Plight Evokes Jealousies

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 29.—Austria's pitiful plight has evoked sympathies from many but has also rekindled acute international jealousies between Italy on one hand and the Little Entente, now comprising Czecho-Slovakia, Yugo-Slavia, Rumania and Poland, on the other.

Each side is fearful that the other may profit by Austria's adversity to gain an economic and political foothold prejudicial to itself.

Italy is particularly suspicious of the growing strength of the Little Entente and conferences are now being held between representatives of Czecho-Slovakia, Yugo-Slavia and Rumania regarding the measures to adopt concerning Austria.

There is even some talk of military occupation of portions of Austrian territory both by Italians and Yugo-Slavs with the ostensible purpose of securing internal order in case of outbreaks by the despairing population.

This will mean that the fat will soon be in the fire.

Carlton-Fed Ball Nine Ties With Asia Bankers

Start With Good Lead But As Dinner Time Neared Got Nervous

Carlton-fed baseball players lost a beautiful chance to beat the ball tossers of the Asia Bank at the big park yesterday afternoon. The boarders at Louie Ladow's place had the game cinched often but along toward dinner time they got nervous and booted their win away. The score at the end of the seventh, when darkness fell, was 7-all.

The Carlton gang took an early lead on good hitting in the first after which the game settled down to one-two-three baseball. Lensen was serving the bankers a dish of curves etcetera that put Captain Hopkins of the Big Club almost in the notion of signing him for the series Saturday against the Martinet. He fanned fifteen men before he finished. O'Brien for the bank clerks allowed but seven hits. With the great support of Banker Ladd, who counts the roubles in Walkover's register, he held the healthy Boarders to seven little hits, while his own team was overliking Ellis' hungry players.

The Bankers overtook the Carlton men in the fourth on a batting rally and a few errors. McGrain was covering lots of territory in right field during this stage but he didn't appear to be helping much. In the sixth and seventh both sides struck hitting streaks together with spasms of reckless fielding, and the game ended tied in time for both teams to dress for another Carlton dinner.

9th Cavalry Ordered Back To America

The Ninth Cavalry, which includes the famous Negro baseball team well known to Shanghai fandom has been ordered back to the United States from the Philippines, according to information received in Shanghai yesterday, and will leave the islands on the October transport.

The Ninth cavalry will be split up when it arrives in America, part going to Fort Riley, Kansas, and part to Fort Huachuca, Arizona, so it appears that the famous baseball organisation will be greatly weakened unless it happens that all the players happen to be in one unit.

The custom of keeping a Negro regiment in the Philippines is apparently being broken by the War Department by the move as the 26th Cavalry, a Filipino outfit, will take the place of the Ninth.

Terrible Wound from Abdomen to Hip

Our portrait is of Mrs. M. MACE, of 97, Bestall Lane, Stourbridge, England, who writes:

"For 6 years I suffered with a terrible wound stretching from the abdomen to the right hip; during that time I tried doctors' and patent medicines innumerable, but without success. At length I was persuaded to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and after taking the first bottle began to see an improvement, which has continued, with the result that my wound is healed, and I now have no pain." In a further recent letter Mrs. Mace writes: "I am happy to say that there has been no recurrence of my complaint and consider my case a very satisfactory cure."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Gout. CHANG TSO-LIN FAVORS TSAO FOR NEW PRESIDENT

Fengtien Cheiftain Wants Southern Leader For Vice-President

(China Press Correspondence)

Mukden—Since his defeat in the hands of Wu Pei-fu and withdrawal beyond Shanhaikwan, Chang Tso-lin, the Fengtien warlord, has changed his policy by seeking an alliance with Tsao Kun, the Chihli militarist and offering support to him.

On the occasion of the Dragon Boat festival this summer, Chang despatched a letter of season's greetings to Tsao in accordance with the customs among the Chinese officials. In it he expressed his willingness to support the Chihli cheiftain as the next President for the Republic. In response, Tsao expressed his deep gratitude for the support.

The facts about this negotiation between the Fengtien and Chihli warlords were known to all who had followed closely the events of the war camps.

Realising his own weakness since his defeat, Chang Tso-lin felt that his personal support for Tsao is not sufficient to bring about the desired effect. So he sought concerted action with Chekiang, where he secured the endorsement of General Lu Yung-hsiang, who sent an agent to Paotingfu in connection with the negotiations recently. Upon the arrival of this agent at Tientsin, preliminary exchange of views was carried between the emissary and Colonel Hsiung Ping-chi, aide-de-camp of General Tsao. Tsao eventually sent a special delegate to Tientsin to welcome the agent of General Lu, who confirmed the plan to elect Tsao Kun president, leaving the vice-presidency to a Southern leader and the premiership to Marshal Tuan Chi-jui.

In The U. S. Court For China

In connection with a writ of replevin issued to Dodge and Seymour for ten motor cars held by Mr. Harry S. Janes, Receiver for the Shanghai Taxi Company, a demurrer filed by Mr. Janes is sustained in a ruling that was handed down yesterday by Judge C. S. Lobingier. This ruling follows another given recently in connection with mandamus proceedings in which Dodge and Seymour sought without success to compel United States Marshal Porter execute the writ of replevin after its execution had been held up by an injunction obtained by the Receiver of the Shanghai Taxi Company.

Judge Lobingier's ruling on the demurrer is as follows:

Dodge and Seymour (China), Ltd., Plaintiff, v. Harry S. Janes, Receiver, et al, Defendant.

Cause No. 1779. Order Filed August 30, 1922.

SYLLABUS

1. Receivers: The Right to sue a receiver is usually conditioned upon the consent of the Court appointing him.

2. Id.: Pleading. The Exceptions provided by Section 66 of the Judicial Code must be pleaded in order to be availed of.

3. Id.: Id. A complaint in an action against a receiver which fails to allege either the obtaining of such consent or the existence of the statutory grounds of exception is subject to demurrer.

Fessenden, Holcomb and Snyder by Mr. Holcomb for the demurrant.

Williams, Franklin and Faison by Mr. Franklin, contra.

This is an action of replevin to recover certain property alleged to be in the possession of one who is described as "the receiver of defendant, Shanghai Taxicab Company, Inc., a corporation organized under and by virtue of the laws of the United States," etc.

The name of the Court appointing the receiver is not mentioned (though it will be seen that the validity of the receivership is assumed), nor is it alleged that the consent of such Court to sue the receiver was obtained and on this latter ground a demurrer is interposed.

It is stated in a well known work that

"the weight of authority is that a receiver appointed by judicial authority cannot, in the absence of a statue to the contrary, be subjected to suit without the leave of the Court whose officer he is, granted in the cause in which he was appointed."

It is, indeed, provided that a receiver appointed by a Federal Court

"may be sued in respect of any act or transaction of his in carrying on the business connected with such property, without the previous leave of the Court in which such Receiver or manager was appointed."

It is not alleged in the complaint before us that the detention of the property here sought to be recovered is an "act or transaction of his in carrying on the business connected with" the property of which he is receiver, and without such an averment we do not think plaintiff is entitled to the benefit of the exception provided by the statute.

The case cited by plaintiff's counsel does not seem to be in point here where no state court is involved. At least a more authoritative decision of the Supreme Court seems quite as much in point.

An averment of the Court's consent to sue the receiver being an essential and it not appearing that this case falls within the statutory exception, the demurrer must be sustained.

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 29.—Colonel E. M. House, formerly President Wilson's confidential adviser, took breakfast with Mr. Lloyd George at Downing Street today, when various matters connected with the economic and financial condition of Europe were discussed.

This, following Governor Cox's interview with the Premier on Saturday, is causing speculation.

FASCISTI TAKE TOWN

Weddings

TRAUTSHOLD—GROSSE

The wedding took place at Mokanshan last Sunday of Miss Elizabeth Grosse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Grosse of Shanghai, and Mr. W. Trautshold, formerly Consul-General for Russia in Harbin, and lately Charge d' Affaires of the Russian Legation in Siam. Miss Grosse's father is also a member of the Russian Diplomatic Service being at present Assistant Commissioner for Russian Affairs here.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. F. McRae, assisted by Rev. J. W. Nichols. The bride was given away by her father and attended as bridesmaid by her sister, Miss Anita Grosse. Mr. Charles Metzler acted as best man. Six little girls—Misses Elizabeth, Anne and Margaret McRae, Julia and Annie Nichols and Clara Woodward—acted as flower girls. The couple will spend their honeymoon in Mokanshan.

SORBY—REED

The wedding took place at the Union Church, Amoy, recently, of Miss Margaret Dare Sorby, a daughter of the late Mr. Leonard Sorby, of Worksop, of the Hongkong Education Service, to Capt. H. G. Reed, secretary and superintendent of Police to the Kulgansu Municipal Council, Amoy.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. L. Gordon Phillips, and the bride was given away by Mr. H. J. Morse of the Standard Oil Co. Mrs. Morse was the matron-of-honor, while best man was Capt. F. R. Smith, M. C., of the Australian Flying Corps.

Wu Gives Up Road Seized During War

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 29.—An agreement has been reached between the Chiaotungpu and General Wu Pei-fu whereby the latter completely restores the control of the Peking-Hankow Railway. The office which General Wu Pei-fu established at Hankow for the collection of revenue has been abolished and it is confidently predicted that there will be no further interference with revenues. Troop movements and the shortage of rolling-stock, however, are still proving hindrances to traffic.

Drunken Japanese Throw Beer Bottles At Passing Chinese

Municipal police are searching for members of a gang of drunken Japanese sailors who engaged in the throwing of beer bottles at pedestrians and policemen on Yangtszepoo Road early yesterday morning. One of the men has been arrested and will be tried in the Japanese Court.

The sailors were throwing empty bottles at passing Chinese when a Chinese constable interfered, arresting C. Shinbayashi. While he was making the arrest another member of the party struck the policeman over the head with a bottle and the rest all made their escapes.

Chita Sees 'Reign Of Terror' By Diederich

(Dalta News Agency

Chita, August 23.—Diederich's reign of terror still prevails in Vladivostok. Scores of workers have been arrested and detained on the gunboat Manjur. After terrible torture, they were thrown in to the Amur Gulf, is the charge.

Being entirely helpless, the Vladivostok workers, through the medium of the Trades Union, have applied to the Consular Corps to send protest to Diederich regarding atrocities, arrests and the killing of innocent people.

Compradore Sues For Return Of $300

Judge Peter Grain yesterday ordered pleadings in the action brought by Chan Gee-kang against Marriott, Beliatsky and Co., Ltd., for return of $300 alleged to have been put up as security under a compradore agreement.

The defendant, Mr. Beliatsky, stated that his attorney, Mr. Newman, was away and asked an adjournment. Asked if he had any objection, Mr. C. S. Franklin, counsel for the plaintiff, said that since the firm had been out of business since early in July he would not like the adjournment to be a long one.

Defendant said the firm was not able to pay the $300 into Court as it was not available, though the firm had it in assets. The case was adjourned until next Wednesday.

A story of crooks, spooks, lovers and lunatics. In which the screen's greatest comedienne takes the sigh from asylum and puts the toot in institution.

A nasty aunt—a fiery squabble—a quack doctor and bloole! a sanitarium for Dorothy.

But when the story ends—who's keeping the keepers busy then? Come and see, and laugh till the tears come!

They said she was non compos mentis! Which being interpreted means, "Funny in the head." So her crooked aunt and her aunt's crooked doctor packed her off to a sanitarium and proceeded to spend her money.

Was she funny? She is. But not in the head. And what she did do to Aunty, Doc and that "crazy house!"

Don't dare to miss it. One big long side-achy laugh!

MARY MILES MINTER

The contrast between the old-fashioned girl and Miss 1922, their methods of hunting down a husband, always an interesting comparison, is the revolving point of this fast whirling romance. "DON'T CALL ME LITTLE GIRL."

A vivacious heroine smartly interpreted by Mary Minter trips on a miscalculated romance of a maiden aunt, falls in love with the hitherto-reluctant bridegroom herself and shapes the destinies of four lovesick misfits, including herself after no end of embarassing mistakes.

The Story is old fashioned and modern by turns. There is some excellent comedy and a never-flagging pep that brings the interest to a pitch and keeps it there.

"Don't Call Me Little Girl"

may be set down as one of the best productions in which MARY MILES MINTER HAS YET APPEARED.

Religion And Humanity

A YOUNG Japanese poet, who forgetting that we may have been unkind to the Japanese as they have been unkind, maybe, to others, without intending so to be (merely plotting to make the world better, perhaps) has written the following prose poem in reply to G. L.'s attack on Miss Sophia's plea for the universality of religion. He writes in English from the standpoint of a buddhist and not a word has been changed. Write your own answer:

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: Mr. G. L.'s dogmatic article on Christianity in the form of a letter apparently disturbed Mr. (Miss?) Sophia's forcible appeal for the universal church has given me a sad reflection of doubt on the soul of my departed friend. It would be a great kindness to me if he, Mr. G. L., would so kindly condescend in sympathy as to favor me with his answer so that I might be enlightened as in what state my poor friend's soul should probably be pitched beyond the grave . . . now.

Momotaro was the name of my dead friend. He was born poor, lived poor but honest and dutiful and died poor and obscure. He was a little over 30 when he returned home after ten years' hardships in Hawaii where he went as immigrant in order to mitigate his parents' suffering in poverty. On his return, however, Momotaro found his home more miserable than ever.

His unfailing monthly remittance had been abused by his thoughtless father who took to drink and squandered his son's hard earned money at gambling. The poor old mother's mind was distracted by her husband's continuous ill-treatment of her and collapsed at last.

Momotaro did not shed tears of despair nor of resentment, for he was constantly consoled by Buddha who taught him how to bear his lot with a patient, meek, humble heart, hard as it was.

No particular trade he had learned yet and so he bought a ricsha with the little money he had brought back from Hawaii. Every day of the week, fair or rainy, hot or cold, with no Sabbath throughout the year, he pulled his ricsha with a cheerful heart.

He cooked their frugal meals himself for the three and at each evening meal a small bottle of sake was placed on his father's table. It was one of his greatest pleasures to see his father sip the sake with a good relish, though his father was no longer allowed to get drunk or to gamble.

His another consolation was to persuade his parents to go with him to hear the kind priest's evening preaching at the temple. Momotaro could neither read nor write. His whole scanty wisdom was drawn solely from the source of the Buddhist priest's sermons which he rarely missed. As the baby rests in the bosom of its mother he reposed his faith in Buddha's promise of Paradise to those who kept their hearts pure according to the teaching. He loved man just as he loved Buddha. His life knew no complaint: he had learned to enjoy his humble life even in his miserable poverty.

Momotaro died rather abruptly after two more years of strenuous work at pulling his ricsha, just having buried his pacified mother who survived her reformed husband for a year, with a hope, I believe, of being received by Buddha in the Heavenly Home of eternal Peace and Joy.

Does Mr. G. L. suppose Momotaro's stainless soul to have been rejected and condemned to the Hell of eternal torture by our merciful God while the less worthy Christians are accepted wholesale?

Thanking Mr. G. L. in advance for his kind answer, I am etc.,

H. K. M.

Hays Cure For Movie Evils

BY ROSE C. FELD

(New York Times)

"As you serve the leisure of the masses so do you rivet the girders of society."

"Anything that ought to be done is doable."

"It's not so much the length of the step that's important, it's the direction."

"It's a Cause with a Capital C with me."

These were some of the telling points with which Will H. Hays, President of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributers of America, punctuated an interview on the motion picture industry. Perhaps the outstanding characteristic of the man is his sanity. He confesses himself a tenderfoot at the game, but is not blinded to the fact that there is much in it which even the man on the street can point out as needed in the way of improvement. But Mr. Hays says the burden of correction does not lie only on the shoulders of the leaders of the industry. There is a great deal that the average theatergoer can do toward correcting a situation distasteful to him. He can stop patronising the kind of motion picture that is objectionable. Box office receipts are the surest way of interpreting the mind of the public.

"In judging the motion picture industry," Mr. Hays began, "the majority of people fail to take into consideration its youth. In a little more than fifteen years it has grown from an idea until today it is the principal amusement of our people and the sole amusement of millions. It is one of the greatest industries in America, having an investment in real estate, studios and equipment of probably $500,000,000, with something like $50,000,000 paid annually in salaries, $200,000,000 in production, and about $800,000,000 is spent by the public for admissions. The men who pioneered in this industry have accomplished wonderful things in this short span of time. Looking back it smacks more of the magic of an Arabian Nights story than of scientific and commercial accomplishment.

"Whenever the subject of motion pictures come up there is certain to be a finger of scorn pointed at the way in which the industry has been permitted to run riot contrary to rules of sanity, art, culture, of morality even. I do not know that all of the scorn and contumely is deserved. A goodly share, it must be admitted, the industry has to shoulder. But let's look back to the birth and beginning of other big projects. In the gold rush of '49 a glorious adventure called out the boldest and the bravest of the nation's men. Today we stress the boldness and the braveness. A pioneer of those days, however, can tell a story full of color and fight and noble deeds, but he also will include tales where children were trampled over and men stabbed in the back in the mad rush for gain which actuated everybody. Let us not forget as a matter of history that while the pioneer in any business is always a romantic figure, his conduct frequently does not measure up the best boarding school standard.

"We take no particular pride in the early days of development of the railroads or the fur trade or the oil fields of yesterday. It is strongly suspected that commerce was born in piracy, and we do know that organised society itself was born in a little group which lifted its hand against other groups, knowing no law but violence and no purpose but the defense of their own caves.

"It is a far cry to moving pictures, but there is not an entire absence of analogy. There has been competition of the fiercest kind, of course. There has been no time for adequate reflection. The mere physical and mechanical expansion of the early years has been so rapid and great that there was neither time nor mood to consider adequately the moral educational responsibilities inherent in this great new thing.

"But those days are over. At the end of this period of incredibly compressed physical, mechanical, financial and artistic development, the pioneers have caught their second breath. The picture frontier has become a business thoroughfare and the picture pioneer a sober business man. Of its own weight the industry has settled down commercially into a sanity and conservatism like that of the banking world. It has recognised its responsibility and its duty to the public and it will fulfill that responsibility and duty.

"Perhaps the greatest indication of the sincerity of the men behind this movement lies in the fact that voluntarily they got together for the one purpose of better serving the public. They needn't have organised a body like the Motion Picture Producers and Distributers of America and placed a representative of the public at the head of it. But they did. The two main clauses of their articles of association hold that their objects are the development and the maintenance of the highest possible moral and artistic standards in motion picture production and the development of the educational as well as the entertainment value and general usefulness of films.

"These objects are not to be forgotten. Already steps have been taken to insure the public a better kind of picture. As you serve the leisure hours of the masses, so do you rivet the girders of society. That is as true as night follows day. Today the motion picture producers have awakened to that fact. They know that it is within their power to make a real contribution to the future trend of artistic and moral thought and action.

"During May a letter went out to all the producers affiliated with the association telling them that the time to begin the improvement of motion picture work was right then. The place to begin was in the studios. We are responsible for the motion pictures of the next year. There is no zone of twilight in the matter. Every day there is opportunity in the studios to take action which will more and more eliminate the objectionable features, and nearer and nearer reach the 'highest possible moral and artistic standard.'

"The pictures now being made will come out soon and will be the proof either of our honesty of purpose or of our failure. They will be the proof either of our ability to correct our evils ourselves or of our inability to run our own business. There is nothing in which we can possibly be engaged which is of as much importance to the success of our efforts as to make certain that these very pictures, the first made after the organisation of the association, shall clearly show the integrity of the men affiliated with it.

"This Summer, Fall and Winter the pictures shown will still be of last year's vintage. Next year, however, you may begin to expect a better picture, a picture more psychologically sound, more artistically true and more morally commendable. The change will not come over night. It takes more than a day to clean house on a nationwide basis. It is not the length of the step that matters. It is the direction. And we are headed due right. I know the change can be made if for no other reason than that it ought to be and needs to be made. Anything that ought to be done is doable.

RECEIPTS FINAL ARBITER

"Here let me say that it is not a task for the producer to tackle alone. The popularity of a picture is gauged by box-office receipts. If the public does indeed feel entitled to a better and higher form of motion picture amusement, then, it is up to the public to patronise only those places which least offend its taste. A man may be imbued with the ideas of a vegetarian, but he can't run a vegetarian restaurant successfully when all his patrons demand beef.

"Awakening public opinion to public action on the question of encouraging the proper kind of pictures has been just as important a task as awakening the producers. Not so long ago representatives of national organisations like the Boy Scout movement, the Girl Scouts, women's clubs, Sunday school unions and the like were called into conference to see whether some steps could be taken to build up groups imbued with the purpose of fostering better films. Many of those groups are functioning today. What a national association can do in the way of encouraging the production of finer films also can be done by small community groups. Better films committees can be organised in every town and village boasting a motion picture theater. The exhibition of good films can be made a successful business venture, whereas the showing of immoral or inar-

THE TEST OF THE STAIRS.

Do they leave you Breathless?

Many people, otherwise in apparently good health, find themselves "out of breath" after slight exertion. To them it seems a long journey to reach the top of a flight of stairs, for they must rest on the way. This breathless condition, when accompanied by pale cheeks and lips, is a characteristic symptom of anaemia, and is caused by the lack of red corpuscles in the blood.

When the blood lacks red corpuscles it is a scientific fact that a course of Dr. Williams' pink pills will cause them to increase. This can be proved by a microscopic examination, or anyone can detect the difference by looking in a mirror, for an increase of red corpuscles shows quickly in the cheeks, and especially in the lining of the eyelids.

When a girl's colour fades, when her cheeks and lips grow pale, and she soon gets short of breath, and her heart palpitates after slight exertion or under the least excitement, it means that she is suffering from thin blood, otherwise anaemia. Headache and backache often accompany this condition, and nervousness is frequently present.

The remedy is to build up the blood, and for this purpose Dr. Williams' pink pills are unequalled. They restore the blood, bring brightness to the eyes, and put colour in the cheeks and lips.

Now is the time to begin Dr. Williams' pink pills. Get a supply from any dealer, or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai, $1.50 per bottle or $8 for 6 bottles. The price includes postage.

tistic ones can be tabooed via the route of the no receipts.

Up to the present the industry has almost exclusively confined itself to motion pictures for recreation or amusement. Today we are branching out in a field hitherto practically ignored, the pedagogic picture. What little has been done in this in the past has been trifling and petty. What is to be done in the future will be limited only by the interest taken by men and women educators.

"The motion picture is a distinct contribution to visual instruction. In 1920 a number of tests were made to prove the efficacy of the motion picture as an aid to acquiring knowledge. Some of these were conducted by Professor J. W. Sheppard of the University of Oklahoma in one of the high schools of Madison, Wis. Abstract and concrete subjects were taught to one group of students by means of film only, to a second group by a superior instructor and to a third group by an average instructor. The film scored an average of 74.5 percent, the superior teacher an average of 66.9 percent and the average teacher 61.3 percent. In other words, the film outstripped the best teacher by 6.6 percent and the average by 12.14 percent.

"A cablegram from Paris a short time ago told how a class of medical students at the Sorbonne University saw by motion pictures the complete details of a wonderful operation performed by the famous surgeon. Professor Jean Louis Faure. The film was run at a speed synchronising exactly with the actual progress of the operation and as the details appeared upon the screen another surgeon described every movement made, from the first incision to the closing of the wound by the last stitch. In no way could so great a number of students have watched the life-saving workmanship of a master of his profession.

"In my opinion there will be a series of motion pictures adopted soon by boards of education just as now series of textbooks are adopted. They must be, of course, scientifically, psychologically and pedagogically sound.

BROAD FIELDS AWAIT

"The producers are interested in this work. They realise its importance and the industry is eager to help. Up to the present it had not been easy for producers to meet the requirements of the educational field. There are several reasons for this. In the first place until lately the demand for strictly instructional class room films has been small. Films are costly and unless a single film can be used over and over it cannot be made without great loss. If education films are to be produced accurately and in sufficient numbers, better methods of distribution must be worked out.

"Again, there has been difficulty because those who produced the films were not trained educators and therefore were not able to produce pedagogically sound films, while at the same time the educators whose advice has been available too often have proved unable to adapt themselves to the peculiar demands of screen production. Before great progress can be made there must be some method worked out to bring together the men and women who are versed in the psychology of education with the men and women who are skilled in the methods and mechanics of picture production.

"I think we have reached a point of fair contact. As a result of a meeting held in Boston by the National Education Association a plan has been formulated whereby the association will appoint a committee of five educators who will work with the producers for the purpose of making sound pedagogic films. The movement for better schools will be followed closely by the one for better films.

"There is a limitless field in this motion-picture work. I have been sold to it heart and soul. It has become for me a Cause with a capital C. All that is required is perseverance and patience. Perseverence to take it out of the category of a wild-cat industry and patience while it is sowing the highly cultivated seeds for a new harvest. Every new industry, every new science makes mistakes and is criticised. All of them have had to remedy the faults of their early days. The telegraph and telephone were criticised. It was regarded as a sinful act to disseminate the printed word in any form among the humbler people who were supposed to remain in the nich of life 'in which God placed them.' The bicycle and the automobile were pronounced 'agencies of the devil.' Riding on the railroads was so evil that the use of schoolhouses for even a discussion of the question was prohibited with proclamations that such things as railroads were impossibilities and rank infidelity. If God had designed that his intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of fifteen miles an hour by steam. He would clearly have foretold it through 'His holy prophets,' Medical men declared bathtubs a menace to health. In 1843, Philadelphia tried to prohibit bathing between Nov. 1 and March 15 by ordinance, and in 1845 Boston made bathing unlawful except when prescribed by a physician. Virginia taxed bathtubs $30 a year.

"What has all this to do with motion pictures. Merely this: The industry is made up of humans subject to human failings. They are young. Nothing can be taken from the past. The men who first took up this new thing are still alive. The pioneers of the institution are the men who are still in the business. We are at this movement in the midst of achieving a set of high standards in our relations to each other and to the public and in our responsibilities to the world. The difficulties of all these things are being worked out and so great an agency for good will the motion picture soon become, if sincere efforts count and sincere co-operation is given by thinking Americans, that before long criticism will die away and the present critics will be sounding the praise of this new art based always on its demonstrated integrity, quality and usefulness.

"I have been asked a number of times why the motion picture industry objects to political censorship considering that it is working on a program where there will be nothing to censor. The motion picture industry objects to political censorship for one great reason, because the motion picture business is an American business. Political censorship made Plymouth Rock, it faced the Minute Men at Concord Bridge, it caused the Boston Tea Party. As I have said before there is one place only where the evils of the motion picture can be eliminated and the good can be retained and that is the point where and when the pictures are made. And it can be done then and there. I am making no mistake about that. Right is right and wrong is wrong and men know right from wrong. The corrections can be made, real evil can and must be kept out, the highest standards of art, taste and morals can be achieved and it is primarily the duty of the producer to do it."

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation

August 30, 1922

Spot and Forward Bar Silver were each unchanged in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 69 ½ cents and the London-New York cross rate improved to 446 ¼. Our official Sterling rate here today was dropped to 3-5 ¼, Gold Dollars to 76 ⅜ and the Yen rate raised to 62 ⅜, and the other rates changed accordingly.

Our market was very quiet indeed throughout the morning with very little business passing and practically no variation in rates. There were sellers of Sterling at 3-5 9-16 for September-October delivery, at 3-5⅝ for November-December, with buyers 1-16 point higher.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 77½ September-October and 77⅝ November-December with buyers ¼ point higher. A small business in Yen was done at 61⅝ for September delivery and 61⅝ for October.

Owing to the improvement in the Franc cross rate there was a good demand for Francs today, banks being buyers of T. T. at 1010 and of Bills at 1035.

Banks were quoting 3-6⅜ for Sterling Bills and 79 for Gold Dollar Bills. There was nothing doing in the London silver market yesterday. The New York market is quoted as a shade easier with more sellers than buyers at the rate.
